American Whistles- they're a blast!

American Whistle Corporation has the unique manufacturing ability worldwide to die-strike your logo into the top of a solid brass whistle. Since 1956, we have been committed to made in America and to delivering the ultimate in personal safety tools. We are proud to manufacture THE American Whistle, used by millions of Americans across all walks of life.

Our whistles are used by the American Red Cross at disaster sites around the world. Corporations order whistles for promotional purposes and to distribute to associates and customers in order to increase awareness of personal safety issues. But, of course, our whistles are used most by individuals directing traffic, refereeing youth sports, guarding lives at public pools and found in the pockets and on the key rings of hikers and campers everywhere. Importantly, our dedication to customer service is key to keeping our long list of happy customers from Boy Scouts to corporations and police officers to college students.
